T-Ball Through Majors

Batting

- T-Ball - Each batter will hit the ball off a batting tee. NO coach pitch is allowed at the T-Ball level.
- Coach Pitch - The coach is to pitch overhand no more than 6 pitches (good or bad). If the batter is unable to hit the ball, then the ball will be placed on the tee.
- Each team will bat its entire lineup each inning. At this level, outs are not counted but if a play is made on a batter or runner and they are out, they do go back to the “dugout” and the next batter is up.
- A batted ball must travel 15 feet from home plate to be considered a ball in play. This will be determined by a painted arc on the field, or the judgment of the offensive coach if no arc is painted.

Infield

- Each team is to position 6 players in the infield. One at first base, second base, third base, shortstop, and pitcher. The 6th infielder can be placed in front, or behind the second base.
- Players should have the opportunity to play in all positions. No player shall be allowed to play the same position for more than two innings in the same game. Please do be careful, for safety's sake, not to place a child in a position such as first base or pitcher where a hard hit or thrown ball could injure them.

Outfield

- Outfielders are to always be placed a “minimum” of 10 feet beyond the base paths.

Base Running

- There are no lead offs or base stealing. A player who steals a base will be sent back to their original base.

- No running on overthrows. The runner is only awarded the base that they would have gained had there been no throw.
- Base runners may continue to advance when a ball is hit to the outfield but must stop advancing when the ball re-enters the infield on the ground or in the air. (This means once the ball is back inside the base path, please use discretion).
- If a runner is on base and a fielder catches a fly ball the batter is out, the runners may not advance or be tagged out if they do. Send them back to their original base.
- Only defensive coaches on the field (outside of the base paths).
- Offensive coaches may place themselves at first, third, and home plate.
- The last batter in the lineup “may” run the entire bases to end that half of the inning.

Each player must be on the field for a minimum of four full defensive innings (12 defensive outs), which do not have to be consecutive.

Any player not playing the required time or infield innings will start the next regularly scheduled game as a starting player and follow the same defensive play time rules stated above.

No player shall remain out of the defensive lineup for more than 1 complete inning

Teams will play with ten players on the field, four of whom must be in the outfield. If a team can field only 8 or 9 players, that team may play with two or three outfielders. The opposing team will still play with ten fielders.

A pitching machine (Blue Flame) shall be used for all Single A games.

- Managers will agree on speed setting before the game
- The pitching machine will be placed at 42' from home plate.

Exception: If the batter has two strikes and swings at an errant pitch, this is not the sixth pitch, it will be strike three and the batter will be out.
- Umpires shall determine all errant pitches.

Pitching Machine Interference

- A batted ball hitting any part of the pitching machine or stopping underneath the machine shall be declared a dead ball and an automatic single. Runners will advance one base.
- A thrown ball getting stuck in the machine or stopping under the machine shall be declared a dead ball. If a player reaches underneath the machine for a ball, the ball shall be declared a dead ball (players should be taught not to reach under the machine). The runners are allowed to advance only one base
- If the coach operating the pitching machine interferes with a play, intentional or not, the batter/runner is out, and all base runners return to their original position before the play
